The Pagani Zonda (pictured above) is the UK's top fantasy car purchase, according to members of the PistonHeads motoring community.

Comprised of car enthusiasts and experts, PistonHeads' one million members are invited to create their own virtual garage as part of their profile, comprising their current cars, previously owned cars and the ultimate, 'money-no-object' car they most aspire to own.

Analysis of 200,000 cars selected by 40,000 PistonHeads members reveals that, while the top three choices are modern supercars (Zonda, Aston Martin V8 Vantage and Bugatti Veyron), the rest of the top 25 is dominated by iconic classics like the Ferrari 288 GTO, Lancia Stratos and Dodge Viper.

with nearly 115,000 used cars for sale currently in the classifieds section.

The Pagani Zonda, first launched in 1999 with the 6-litre, 389 hp C12 iteration, is still worth a staggering £2 million as a used car.

Among the top 100 fantasy cars picked out by PistonHeads members are some far more humble vehicles, including the BMW M3 and MG ZT, while two members even said they yearn to own a Ford Transit van.

PistonHeads editor, Nic Cackett, said: “Our community of car enthusiasts is the biggest and most knowledgeable in the world. So, if they say the Pagani Zonda is the ultimate addition to their fantasy garage, then it’s likely to be a good reflection of the car’s massive desirability.

“But the fact that, included in the top 100 cars our members picked in the fantasy column are cars like the Citroen 2CV and Unimog, shows that it’s all a question of personal taste.

That’s why our community is great – it stimulates often rampant debate about cars.”

More about PistonHeads:

PistonHeads.com is a motoring community that never sleeps. It boasts a heady cocktail of award winning motoring news and editorial content as well as a huge range of extremely active (and very diverse) forums that are home to nearly one million members.

Alongside this it is also a platform to buy or sell a car, being the UK’s biggest prestige classified site. They say, “With almost 115,000 cars for sale at any one time the car of your dreams is only a few clicks away, and selling your existing car couldn’t be easier with our user friendly service”.

But PH isn’t just online. A lot of effort is put into delivering incredible tangible benefits to members such as discounts and special offers, not to mention a comprehensive range of motoring events throughout the year. Not only are these a huge amount of fun but they provide a great opportunity to pry members away from their keyboards so they can get out and enjoy their cars.
