Louis Butcher, Digital Marketing Manager at WhoCanFixMyCar.com says: “We wanted to compare our data to give the UK a better understanding of how important it is to think about the long terms costs when purchasing a car. Everyone always looks at how much the tax or their insurance will be, but maintenance cost can sometimes be put to the back of their minds.

Thoroughly researching how much a car may cost you down the line, will help stop you from getting any nasty shocks should something go wrong!
