Familiar faces set to appear at this year's Beaulieu International

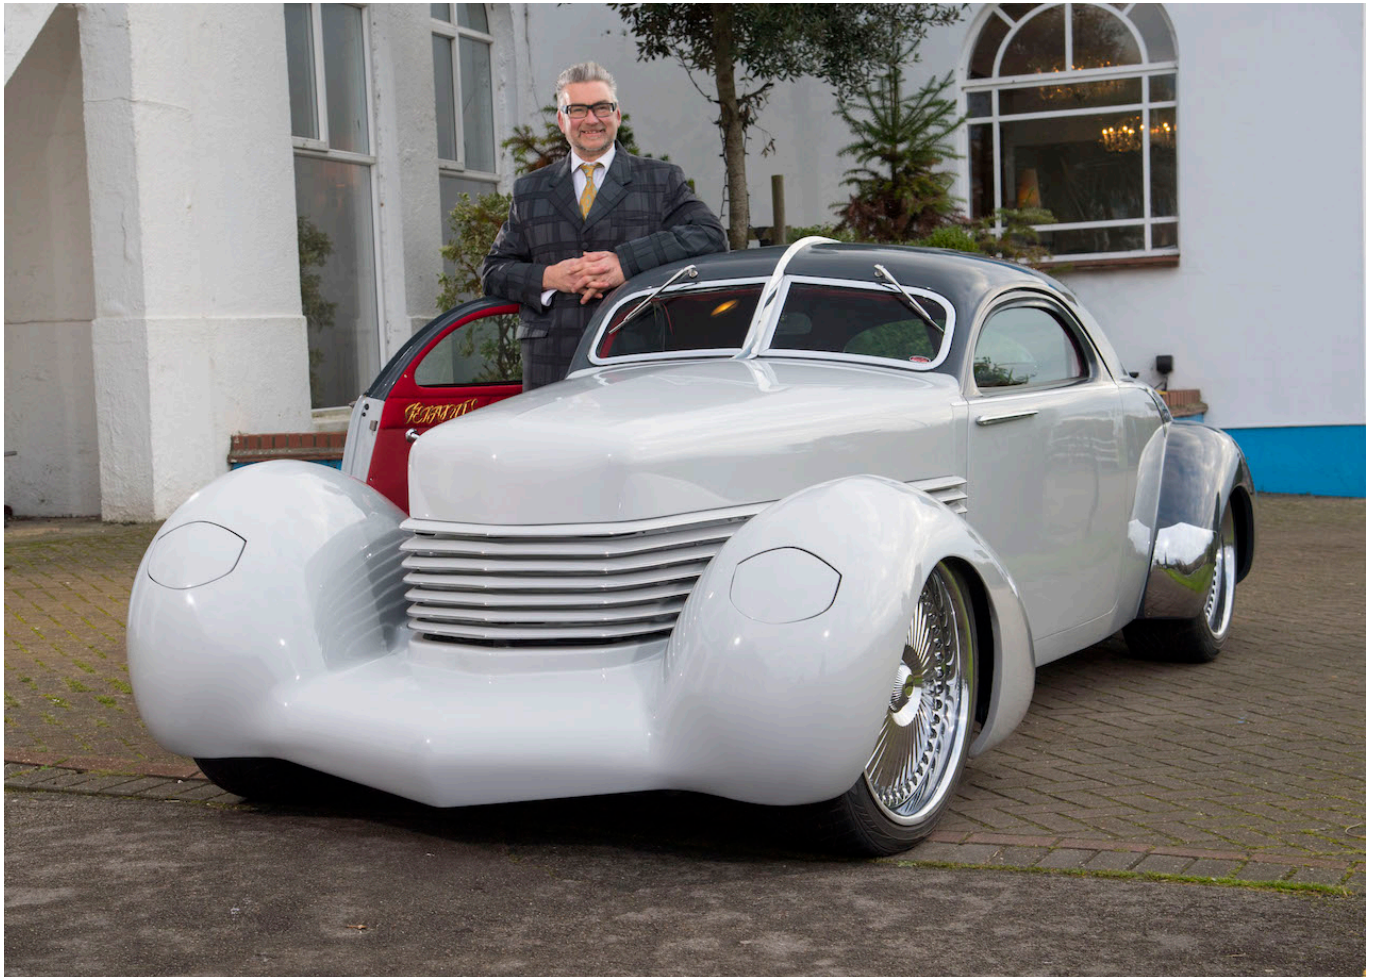

Autojumble, on 14th/15th September...

Beaulieu tells us:

(All words and photographs from Beaulieu).

With just over four weeks to go until Beaulieu International Autojumble, motoring enthusiasts from far and wide are gearing up for a weekend of automotive treasure-hunting on the south coast. Hundreds of stands will be bursting with spare parts, rare books, model cars, retro clothing and unique automobilia, offering something for everyone. What's more, there will be one or two familiar faces in attendance...

Custom car builder Andy Saunders is among the notable motoring figures joining the two-day event, and with him he will be bringing one of his very own custom creations, Tetanus. Event-goers will be able to admire the custom 1937 Cord 812 Westchester sedan up close as well as chat to the car builder himself. Andy will also be selling copies of his autobiography, The Automotive Alchemist.

Fans of BBC's The Repair Shop will be excited to learn that expert craftsman and car fanatic Dominic China will be returning to browse the stands this year. As a seasoned Autojumble visitor, Dominic enjoyed hunting for parts for his various workshop projects last year. Watch his YouTube video here: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=aZy_rzsXCdc

Adding a touch of elegance to the weekend, Molly Bridge, presenter of Bridge Classic Cars, will be visiting Beaulieu's International Autojumble. Known for her vintage style and classic car knowledge, Molly is a popular figure among both vintage and motoring enthusiasts on social media.

The Bonhams Cars auction is a much-loved feature of the show, taking place on Saturday

14th, with some stunning collectors' vehicles up for auction. Sunbeam enthusiasts can look forward to seeing a 1962 3.0-Litre Super Sports Tourer, a 1930 Twenty Tourer by Charlesworth and a 1914 12-16 Sports Tourer all go under the hammer. Other classic cars being auctioned are a 1962 Mercedes-Benz 190 SL Roadster, a 1960 Cadillac Series 6200 Convertible and a Talbot 75 Sports Saloon, with more to be announced soon. Additionally, on Friday 13th there will be the opportunity to bid on automobilia. To attend the auction, visitors will need to purchase a catalogue by either contacting Bonhams or purchasing one from visitor reception on Friday 13th or Saturday 14th September.

Automart offers the perfect opportunity to sell your classic car or bike, drawing thousands of potential buyers throughout the event. Automart sellers receive entry to the Autojumble and the Beaulieu attraction across both days of the event with their car space. For even more motors on sale, visit Dealmart to browse the top-condition classics available from traders.

On Sunday 15th, showgoers have the added bonus of Trunk Traders, in which amateur autojumlbers sell an assortment of items from their car boots. From key motoring items to great bargains and charming memorabilia, there's all sorts up for grabs at a Trunk Traders stand!
