Hundreds of motoring and vintage stands to explore at this year's Beaulieu International Autojumble, on 14th/15th September...

Beaulieu tells us:

(All words and images from Beaulieu).

Beaulieu's International Autojumble returns for another jam-packed weekend of automotive treasure-hunting. From crucial spare parts and tools for historic car projects to automobilia, model cars and books. However, an increasing number of stands offering vintage clothes and collectibles are making their mark on this renowned show.

As the biggest outdoor sale of motoring items in Europe, this event attracts tens of thousands of showgoers each year. Among them are motoring enthusiasts who travel from far and wide to search for coveted car components, but now the iconic autojumble and its traders have expanded its selection to include retro clothes, signs and artifacts.

Chief Executive of the National Motor Museum, Dr. Jon Murden said: "It's about stands having a good blend of retro, automobilia, some boat paraphernalia as well as vintage clothing so it has a whole lifestyle, rather than just being about cars."

Many much-loved features of the show will return this year, including the Bonhams | Cars auction which will take place on Saturday 14th, with collectors' vehicles and automobilia all up for grabs. There will also be the opportunity to bid for Automobilia on Friday 13th. Great for both spectators and buyers, showgoers can enjoy a range of colourful vehicles on display.

For those looking to sell their classic car or bike, Automart provides the ideal opportunity to exhibit your motor to thousands of prospective buyers throughout the two-day show. By booking a space in the Automart, sellers also receive entry to Autojumble and the Beaulieu attraction across both days of the event. If that wasn't enough, the Dealmart is the place to go for pristine classics that are up for sale from traders.

A bonus feature for Sunday is Trunk Traders, a chance for amateur autojumlbers to dig around in their lofts and sell off an assortment of items. From crucial motoring items to charming memorabilia, you never know what you'll find at a Trunk Traders stand!

Practical Classics magazine will return with another original stand as show Media Partner, and their team will be on hand to speak to event attendees about their exciting automotive projects.

Show favourites Morgan Sports Car Club are back with another stunning display, giving visitors the opportunity to admire some seriously sophisticated cars and catch up with members of the club.
